

Kx accessibility statement

All of the commercial web products have been assessed based on the WCAG (Web Content Accessibility Guidelines) framework and work has been carried out on the customer facing pages of both KxB&B and KxRegistration in order to comply with the 2.0 standards. Other products may require assessment and any work identified would need to be scheduled. With all of our products we are striving to improve accessibility and meet the WCAG to a high degree (AA level or above).

Student Websites are often quite bespoke and so need assessing on a case by case basis. Customer brand styling guidelines can for example have a really negative effect on accessibility (poor contrast ratios due to branding colours used is a typical issue) and any standards compliance must be weighed up with design, usability and cost requirements.
